

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

TEXAS WOMAN'S UNIVERSITY

FACULTY RESOURCES

International Affairs provides guidance and support for international efforts at Texas Woman's University including International Student & Scholar Services and Education Abroad. In line with TWU's mission, we strive to cultivate global citizens through programs and partnerships which help students, faculty and staff expand their global perspectives, engagement and awareness.

J-1 SCHOLAR SUPPORT

Our office provides support to J-1 Scholars, visiting researchers, professors, or specialists from a country outside of the U.S. International visitors can be critical members of the TWU community by sharing perspectives and challenging assumptions across academic disciplines.

FACULTY-LED PROGRAMS

Education Abroad is your go-to resource to develop and implement a study abroad program in your discipline. We can provide resources and contacts to expand student learning outside of your classroom in just 1-3 weeks of travel.

FULBRIGHT ADVISING

TWU's Fulbright Program Advisor is housed in International Affairs. Please refer your students to us for the Fulbright U.S. Student Program or reach out if you are interested in the Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program as a faculty member looking to explore projects and development opportunities abroad.

INTERCULTURAL COMPETENCY

One major goal of International Affairs is to assist in developing intercultural competence, or the ability to function and communicate effectively across cultures, at home or abroad.

VIRTUAL EXCHANGE

We can assist you in developing a virtual exchange with another international organization or university, resulting in conversation, discussion, and knowledge transfer across cultures. Funding may be available through external organizations.

HARLAXTON VISITING FACULTY

Harlaxton College is the British campus of the University of Evansville and a longtime partner of TWU. Our office recruits and advises faculty to teach for a semester or a 5-week summer term in this grand English manor house.

GRANTS

Our office can assist in the writing and submission of grants that fund international efforts at TWU. This could include the following: studying, teaching, or conducting research abroad, language acquisition, or diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives.

RESEARCH

If you have a student interested in conducting research or completing a capstone project in another country or if you are coordinating an opportunity abroad for yourself, our office can assist in tracking, assessing safety and risk, and potentially finding scholarships for travel.
